Ref: Letter dated 20-4-1944 from Messrs. Parry & Co., Ltd. Madras.

Reference.

1. The Board submits that representations have been received from wholesale dealers in South Kanara District claiming an additional margin of profit to cover the cost of extra storage of advance supplies of sugar received in the District. According to the first zonal scheme South Kanara was allotted North Indian Sugar. As there was delay in the arrivals of this sugar and as 2,250 tons of sugar from Mysore were ready for import into the Province, which had to be distributed immediately, 900 tons out of the 2,250 tons had to be diverted to South Kanara. During the months of January, February and March 1944 a total quantity of 1197.76 tons were received from both the sources. The monthly consumption quota of the district is 120 tons and according to the stock position at the end of March 1944 the District has sufficient stocks to last for the whole year i.e. until November 1944. Owing to these advance receipts of the sugar allotted to the District the question of storage has arisen and the dealers are demanding extra allowance for storage. The Board considers that an extra allowance is necessary to compensate the loss to the dealers as in the case of the City of Madras. The statement attached to the letter received from Parry & Co., cited above (copy enclosed) explains the arrivals of sugar and the consumption month after month.

2. As the exact dates of arrival and release are not known, the month of arrival and the month of release are to be taken into account for the purpose of counting the period of storage. The margin of 8 annas per Imperial maund allowed to the wholesale dealers at present will cover only 2½ months storage and the period of storage exceeding 2½ months has to be recognised for an extra margin of profit. On this basis thestocks are stored during the months of receipt and of consumption anddeducting the normal storage period of 2½ months, the quantities given in col. 1 of the statement below are to be stored for the extra period noted against each in col. 2 for which interest had to be allowed.

Quantity in bags.	Extra period.
1200	½ month
1200	1½ months.
1200	2½ months.
529	3½ months.
671	2½ months
538	3½ months.
632	2½ months.
1200	3½ months.
1200	4½ months.
1200	5½ months.
273	6½ months.

In other words, interest had to be allowed at 6% per annum for the locking up of capital on 30471½ bags of sugar for one month. Assuming the cost of a bag of sugar to be Rs.46/- the interest works out to Rs.7008-7-0.

3. The other items to be considered are War Risks insurance, insurance, Fire insurance, godown rent and Establishment charges. In view of the fact that the available stocks are distributed to 16 wholesale dealers, the quantity handled by each is not large and the dealers are not likely to incurr ~~xx~~ extra expenses in connection with godown rent and establishment. For these reasons Messrs.Parry & Co., Ltd., do not recommend the inclusion of these charges in the extra allowance that is under consideration. The Board, agreeing with these suggestions, has omitted for the purpose of an extra margin, the charges on godown rent and establishment.

4. The War risks insurance and the Fire insurance are to be allowed for periods of 3 months and as such the allowance is to be granted for the quarters January, March, April - June etc. The maximum stock in each of the quarters is given below.

Quarter	Maximum stock.
January - March	9873 bags
April - June	8673 bags
July - September	5073 bags.

Deducting from the above 2½ months stocks which should be covered by the existing 8 annas per Imperial maund, the surplus stocks that require ~~warrisks~~ insurance and fire insurance in the 3 quarters mentioned above are 6800 bags, 5600 bags, and 2000 bags respectively. As usual 6 annas per cent for the first quarter and 3 annas per cent for the remaining quarters may be allowed for War risks. This comes to Rs.1828-8-0. The charges for fire insurance work out to Rs.621/- at 1½ annas per cent.

5. The charges on the various items amount to Rs.9457-15-0 as shown below:-

Interest	Rs.7008- 7- 0
War Risks Insurance	1828- 8- 0
Fire Insurance	621- 0- 0
	Rs.9457-15- 0

6. This works out to Rs.0-6-7 per imperial maund for 7 months releases from 1st of May to 30th November 1944. It is proposed that the extra margin may be allowed on all releases between May and November 1944. But Messrs.Parry & Co. have recommended that roughly 6 annas per imperial maund would be an ample compensation to the ~~wholesalex~~ dealers who are required to undertake the storage of surplus stocks. The Board agrees with the above suggestio and accordingly recommends that an extra storage allowance of 6 annas per imperial maund may be sanctioned immediately. As it is already time that the extra allowance should be added and the prices fixed by the Collector it is requested that the Board may be authorised to allow the above addition in anticipation of the Sugar Controller' approval.

Copy of letter from Messrs.Parry & Co. Ltd., to the Secretary to the Commissioner of Civil Supplies, Madras, dated 20-4-1944.

Sub: Sugar - Extra margin for South Kanara.

Ten months stock of Mandya sugar was despatched to Mangalore and arrived during January, February and March. This sugar will be sold between January and the end of October and the dealers, therefore, are entitled to an extra allowance to cover the extra expenses incurred.

We enclose a statement worked out on the same basis as we worked for Madras which shows a total extra expense of Rs.12942/- This amount should be recovered on sales made by dealers between May and November and on this basis works out to Rs.0-9-1 per maund.

We have said above that we have worked on the same basis as for Madras, but there is a difference between the 2 markets in that we sell to 16 dealers in Mangalore and the quantity held by each is therefore small in comparison with the quantity held by each dealer in Madras.

We therefore do not consider that the dealers incur extra expenses we have shown against godown rent and establishment, and in our view it will be sufficient if an extra allowance of as.6/- per maund is allowed on sales made by wholesale dealers between the 1st of May and the 30th M of November.

To the Sugar Controller, for India

Sir,

CIVIL SUPPLIES - SUGAR - ALLOWANCE FOR EXTRA STORAGE IN SOUTH KANARA DISTRICT -

Ref: This Govt.'s telegram No.29100 J-I/44-2, d. 22-5-44--

In continuation of the telegram cited above I am directed to explain in detail the circumstances under which this Govt. had to authorise the C.C.S., Madras to allow an extra storage allowance of six annas per Imperial Maund to wholesale dealers in South Kanara District in respect of releases of sugar between May and November 1944 in anticipation of your approval.

Under the first zonal scheme of sugar distributed within the Province the District of South Kanara was ~~allotted~~ to be supplied with North Indian sugar. However as there was delay in the arrivals of this sugar and as 2250 tons of sugar from Mysore ~~were~~ has ready for import into the Province ~~which were~~ to be distributed immediately, 900 tons out of the 2250 tons had to be diverted to South Kanara District. During the months of January, February and March 1944 a total quantity of 1197.76 tons were received from both the sources. The monthly consumption quota of the district is 120 tons and according to the stock position ~~found~~ at the end of March 1944 the district has sufficient stocks to last for the whole year i.e. until November 1944 Owing to these advance receipts of the sugar allotted to the district the question of storage had arisen and the wholesale dealers in the district demanded extra allowance for storage. A Statement is enclosed explaining the arrivals of sugar in the district and the consumption month after month. As the dates of arrivals and releases are not known the month of arrival and the month of release were taken into account for the purpose of ~~as~~counting the period of storage. The margin of eight annas per Imperial Maund allowed by you to wholesale dealers covers only the period of storage for 2½ months ~~of the period~~. But storage exceeding 2½ months has to be compensated for by allowing ~~recovered from~~ an extra margin of profit. On this basis the stocks are stored during the months of receipt and of consumption and taking the quarterly/normal storage period of months the quantities given in column 1 of the statement below have to be stored for the extra period noted against each in col.2 for which interest had to be allowed.

Quantity in bags.	Extra period
1200	½ month
1200	1½ months
1200	2½ months
529	3½ months
671	2½ months
568	3½ months
632	2½ months
1200	3½ months
1200	4½ months
1200	5½ months
273	6½ months

In other words, interest had to be allowed at 6% per annum for locking up of capital of 30471½ bags of sugar for one month. Assuming the cost of a bag of sugar to be Rs 46/- the interest works out to Rs 7008-7-0.

The other items that have to be taken into account are War Risks Insurance, Fire Insurance, godown rent and establishment charges. In view of the fact that the available stocks are distributed to the 16 wholesale dealers the quantity handled by each is not large and the dealers are not likely to incur extra expenses in connection with the godown rent and establishment. For these reasons this Govt. have omitted the charges on account of godown rent and establishment in calculating the extra margin allowed.

The War Risks Insurance and Fire Insurance charges have to be allowed for periods of three months and as such the allowance had to be granted for the quarters January March, April - June etc. The maximum stock in each of the quarters is given below:

Quarter	Maximum stock
January - March	9873 bags
April - June	8673 bags
July - September	5073 bags

Deducting from the above 2½ months stocks which should be covered by the existing margin of eight annas per Imperial Maund the surplus stocks that require War Risks Insurance and Fire Insurance in the three quarters mentioned above are 6800 bags, 5600 bags and 2000 bags respectively. Allowing six annas per cent for the first quarter and three annas per cent for the remaining quarters War Risks Insurance charges work out to Rs 1828-8-0. The charges for Fire Insurance work out to Rs 621/- at 1½ as. per cent.

The charges on the varibus items amount to Rs 9457-15-0 as shown below:

Interest ...	Rs 7008-7-0
War Risks Insurance	1828-8-0
Fire Insurance	621-0-0
	9457-15-0

This works out to ~~Rx80~~ Rs 0-6-7 per Imperial Maund for 7 months' releases from 1st May to 30th November 1944. This Govt. are however allowing an extra allowance of one sixth as. per lb. as they consider that this will be ~~an ideal~~ sufficient compensation to the wholesale dealers who are required to undertake the storage of surplus stocks. It is proposed to allow the extra margin in respect of all releases between May and November 1944. As the extra allowance had to be ~~fixed~~ announced immediately and as revised maximum prices for the district had to be fixed by the Collector taking the extra allowance into account this Govt. had to authorise the ~~Pd.~~ C.C.S. Madras to allow the extra margin in anticipation of your approval. I am directed to state that this Govt. trust that in the circumstances explained above you will agree to the payment of the extra margin in question to the wholesale dealers in South Kanara District. ~~A copy of this is forwarded~~

Please see the Bd.'s report at n.1-2 c.f. For the reas ex lained therein the Bd. recommends that an extra storage allo ance of six annas per Imperial maund may be immediately allowed to whole dealers in South Kanara district over and above the present maxim incidental charges of eight annas per Imperial maund. The Bd. feel th this extra storage allowance is proposed to be allowed on all releases of sugar between May and November 1944. The Sugar Controll has informed this Govt. that he would be grateful if his prior consent were obtained before it was decided to increase the margin in respect of any particular area. The Bd. however represents that as it is already known that the extra allowance should be added and the prices fixed by the Collector it may be authorised to allow the above addition in anticipation of the Sugar Controller's approval. It is for orders whether in these circumstances the Bd. will be authorised as requested by it in anticipation of the Sugar Controll approval.
